HE KNEW THE SHEPHERD

A great actor was asked to entertain at a large dinner party one evening. A ripple of excitement ran through the crowd of prominent and important guests as he rose to speak. He chose to recite the 23rd Psalm, which he did eloquently. He finished the dramatic recitation in a thunder of applause, and the audience gave him a standing ovation.

The next speaker was an elderly white-haired man, bowed and worn by long years of patient labour as a missionary. "I too would like recite the Shepherd's Psalm" he said quietly. Then, turning his face upward a little, and closing his eyes, he began ... When he was through there was not a sound. No word. No applause. And there was not a dry eye in the room.

Afterward, a man said to the great actor: "I don't understand. You both said the same thing. Your presentation was perfect in every way. Yet, when he spoke in his halting, imperfect manner, people were moved too deeply for words.

What made the difference?"

"The answer is simple" replied the actor, "I know the 23rd Psalm: I know it well. But he knows the Shepherd!"
